Patrons, Exhibitors and Supporters Schedule For the 2021 Green Tech Conference & IEEE Region 5 Business Meeting and Student Competitions April 7-11, 2021

The IEEE Denver Section is pleased to host the IEEE Green Technologies Conference, and Region 5 Student Competitions. Approximately 400 Engineers, Researchers, Innovators, and Engineering Students from around the world will be attending the 2021 IEEE Green Technologies Conference and IEEE Student Activities.

This 13th annual IEEE Green Technologies Conference provides a forum for government, industry, and research experts to collaborate and present innovative approaches on future framework, plans, and technological solutions for moving towards a Green Technology Focus.

The academic papers presented at the IEEE Green Technologies Conference are judged on their quality, research, sustainable designs, and applications related to Green Technologies. The best papers shall be included in the conference proceedings then published in IEEE Xplore.

In addition to renewables, Green Technology topics include:

- Energy Generation, Storage, Management, Conservation, and Usage Reduction
- Smart Grids, Systems, Cities, Villages, and Infrastructures
- Sustainable IT Computing and Software Engineering
- Biomedical and Biotechnology Solutions
- Radar/Weather Forecasting, Planning, and Engineering for Wind and Solar Solutions

The IEEE Region 5 Saturday meeting consists of an administrative meeting of IEEE Region 5 volunteers, as well as training and educational activities interspersed with contests for Undergraduate students (Paper, Robotics, Ethics and a Circuit Design).

IEEE Region 5 consists of Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Colorado, and parts of Wyoming, New Mexico, South Dakota, Nebraska, and Illinois.

I thank you very much for your kind consideration to participate as a Patron, Exhibitor, or Supporter. The virtual conference provides various opportunities for you to engage with our attendees as well as a vast marketplace due to increased participation from our previous in-person conferences. Our organization, the IEEE is a non-profit 501(c) (3) organization.

Sincerely,

Abd A. Arkadan chair@ieeegreentech.org

2021 IEEE Green Tech General Chair

Exhibit Spaces

Virtual exhibit spaces are available to display your business or technology through the Whova virtual conference platform. All exhibit spaces will be available during the GreenTech Conference and student competitions on Saturday.

- $750 Sponsorship. Price includes one full complimentary registration.

Virtual exhibit space comes with:

- A customizable virtual booth displaying a text summary, banner or video, website link, and the opportunity to chat with visitors to your page
- Brand promotion through the Whova app/GreenTech website including product/service ads via emails and notifications (some sent well in advance of the conference), and in attendee profiles
- Access to an attendee list and Whova's community engagement tools:
  - Join and create interesting discussions on the community board
  - Invite and meet with attendees over virtual meet-ups

Whova has posted several YouTube videos about their product. One that we recommend is:
